GOOD COUNSEL COLLEGE
WHITE PLAINS, NEW YORK

PUBLISHED BY
THE CLASS OF NINETEEN FORTY-SEVEN

EDICATION

In order to give permanency to the sentiments of high regard in which the Reverend Thomas P. Cahill is held at Good Counsel College, and to give expression more durable than words to our thankfulness for his personal concern, helpfulness, and spiritual assistance, we seniors dedicate this Vestigia to him.

For many years Father Cahill served us in the capacity of chaplain and has held a prominent place among the members of the faculty, as professor of Religion. Two years ago Father's new appointment to St. Francis de Sales Parish in New York necessitated his removal from St. Bernard's Parish in White Plains. His connections with our college, however, have not been severed, for he has remained a loyal friend and spiritual adviser and has manifested his interest in us by his constant presence at our activities and has continued to give us spiritual counsels by means of his instructions in Religion.

We earnestly feel that the dedication of this volume to Father Cahill is but a small acknowledgement in view of the many services he has rendered us, but coupled with it is the heartfelt appreciation of a grateful class.

THE REVEREND THOMAS P. CAHILL

1884 - 1947

Our hearts are filled with sadness over the unexpected death of our late beloved honorary President and one of our dearest friends, the Right Reverend Monsignor Joseph A. Breslin, D.D. It was a privilege for us to know and love him.

Monsignor Breslin's career was one which earned for him great esteem and distinction. His elevation to the priesthood took place in Rome in 1913. The following year he received his Doctorate of Divinity. During the first World War he entered the chaplain corps, and in token of his courage and heroic self-sacrifice was presented with the Distinguished Service Medal. In France where he was chaplain at the camp at St. Nazaire, he achieved an enviable record. Upon his return to the United States, he was assigned to St. Joseph's Church, Manhattan where he remained ten years. His interest in the young of the parish was widespread and his troops of Boy and Girl Scouts were the largest units then in the United States.

In 1925 Monsignor Breslin was re-called to Rome where he became vice Rector of the North American College, a post which entailed serving as host to many dignitaries visiting the Vatican City. In 1926 the late Pope Pius XI conferred upon him the honor of Private Chamberlain to the Holy Father with the title of Very Reverend Monsignor. In 1936 he was raised to the rank of Domestic Prelate with the title of Right Reverend Monsignor. In December of that year he returned to the United States and the late Patrick Cardinal Hayes appointed him pastor of the Church of St. John the Evangelist in White Plains. In January 1940 he was appointed Dean of Westchester County by our beloved Cardinal Spellman and at that time assumed the responsibilities of honorary President of our college, succeeding his late brother, the Right Reverend Monsignor Patrick N. Breslin, D.D.

In White Plains Monsignor Breslin was active in youth work and helped to form the huge Catholic Youth Organization. He labored for years for the establishment of a Catholic boys' high school and spent himself in the campaign launched recently for the Archbishop Stepinac High School for boys.

Monsignor Breslin was held in deepest affection here at Good Counsel and his name will be retained forever in benediction. First and foremost a priestly priest, he manifested toward us on all occasions his unfailing kindness, sympathy, generosity, loyalty, and deep interest in our college. We keenly feel his passing, but we shall ever keep alive the memory of those outstanding qualities which endeared him to our hearts. May we ever honor him by remaining true to the ideals he held so dear.

When we were Freshmen . . .

Nature's doorway to the science departments

When we first arrived at Good Counsel in September, 1943, we felt like a tiny, lonely pine tree. While its trunk was straight, its branches were small and solitary. So we, too, were awkward and lonely and remained thus through those initial hours until the time of our introduction to the Sisters, to other members of our class, and finally, to the upperclassmen who returned two days after our arrival at college.

Before long, however, we were able to find our way around. Several social gatherings were held by each of the upper classes, and by the time we had attended the sophomores' outdoor supper on the "rock"; the juniors' cider and doughnut party; and the seniors' formal tea, we became well acquainted with one another and all sentiments of loneliness at last vanished.

*"In contemplation of created things
By steps we may ascend to God."*

We might say that our official birthday was investiture day, November 8th. On that occasion, His Excellency, the Most Reverend James E. Kearney, D.D., Bishop of Rochester, presented to us our caps and gowns, the garb representative of our new responsibilities as Catholic college students. In his address Bishop Kearney impressed us with the reminder that Our Lady of Good Counsel would always be with us to comfort us and to help us make our decisions. Our honorary president, the Right Reverend Monsignor Joseph A. Breslin, D.D., also presided at the exercises.

During the next month we witnessed the solemnity of our first retreat; the hard-earned success of our table at the bazaar; the worry and scurry of quarterly examinations; and finally, the thrill of the junior prom which some of us attended. We were then well prepared to enjoy a brief respite at Thanksgiving. For some of us it meant the first trip home since September.

En route to class

Early in December the Glee Club presented a joint concert with Fordham University. The chief freshman who contributed her talents was Sara LaBarbera. Ever after we depended upon her for entertainment at all our parties. For several weeks we worked diligently to keep up with our studies between the rehearsals for our first carol night. We freshmen held most of the positions of honor in that beautiful pageant. We wore delicate white dresses with fragile angel wings, rich royal robes, jaunty page suits, or somber shepherd costumes. We sang all the old carols with new joy as the procession wended its way around the snow-covered campus and returned to the chapel for solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. It was on that evening, too, that we commenced our Christmas recess.

The holidays over, we returned to rejoice in the program that closed the Christmas season, which consisted in the burning of the Yule-tide trees and the singing of carols outdoors. Our fifth War Loan Drive was launched just before the January examinations. The new term opened with a farewell in honor of Mrs. Haley, formerly Miss Evelyn Ryan, professor of German and history. She had joined the United States Army signal forces. Mr. Leo I. Kearney, long respected and esteemed member of the faculty, was also lauded by the college on the occasion of his fortieth anniversary as a member of the New York City Board of Education. At the same celebration, Bishop Kearney invested nine new freshmen in their caps and gowns.

In February the Red Cross Unit was organized and many of us proved our interest in its activities. We then held a Valentine tea dance which was well attended. A number of freshmen took part in the Lenten play and on St. Patrick's Day our class had perfect attendance at the parade in New York. Many rehearsals were held in preparation for the Gay Nineties Revue. "The Barbershop Window," as the musical was called, proved well worth the time and efforts it had taken to write and produce it.

The next red letter day was May 6th, the date set for the freshman dance. The forsythia, cherry blossoms, dogwood, and violets which covered the campus proved very beautiful decorations for the affair. Before the final examinations were scheduled we attended the traditional birthday dinner; the senior spring dance; and the celebration of our beloved Reverend Mother Mary Aloysia's anticipated feastday. Mass was offered for her and a special program was presented in the auditorium in her honor.

The last week of our freshman year made us realize that we, too, would take part in those same ceremonies but a few years hence. We eagerly watched the sophomores carry their lovely ivy chain; the juniors rise to senior rank at pine walk; and lastly, the seniors win their laurels for four years of endeavor. With the impress of class day exercises and commencement still bright in our minds we bade one another farewell with promises to write often and with plans to return in the fall.

“THE PINE IS THE MOTHER OF LEGENDS.”

Our Sophomore Year . . .

As our evergreen flourished in height and stretched its sweeping green branches into the sun, so we advanced as sophomores into the second year.

Perhaps we did not write so often as we had planned to do during the summer but we made up for it by our hearty greetings when we saw one another upon our return the following September. The first function at the beginning of the scholastic year was the celebration of the Mass of the Holy Spirit by the Right Reverend Monsignor Joseph A. Breslin, D.D., Honorary President.

In between the various parties we managed to become acquainted with the new freshmen for whom there had been a week of shouting "Timber" as we watched the newcomers shiver at our words.

We formally became sophomores when our tassels were turned by the president of the Student Council on September twenty-seventh. At the ceremony, the Reverend R. Rush Rankin, S.J., reminded us of our responsibilities. One of our early tasks was to give the annual Hallowe'en party at which time Juliette Chapdelaine's unique recitation of "Little Orphan Annie" was memorable. Then while the students made preparations for the bazaar we had our thoughts also on the West Point Military Ball, a great sophomore event of the year. No one can imagine the anxious weeks that preceded it before we knew who would be the chosen few permitted to attend.

When the ball was over and the bazaar successfully brought to a close, we turned our attentions to oratory and dramatics. Several sophomores spoke on the Westchester Catholic Hour and also made up the largest part of the Christmas play cast. Jean Murphy acted notably as old Ebenezer Scrooge and the costumes and stage properties were most convincing.

We attended the annual Christmas banquet and then assembled for the carol night pageant before we took leave of Good Counsel for the holidays. "Joy and Gladness" rang across the campus and His Excellency, Bishop Kearney, celebrated Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

After the vacation we were present at the party which fittingly closed the Christmas season. A new war bond campaign was opened; the first debates of the term were delivered; and finally, the schedule for the examinations was presented to us. But like all others, they, too, passed away with few casualties and then Betty Schneider began her relentless search for manuscripts for the Vox Studentium, the sophomore publication. Rehearsals were in progress for the Lenten play, The Cloth of Sendony, in which Margaret Camp played the leading role. In March on the feast of St. Thomas Aquinas, our first philosophy symposium was given. Many of us were members of that learned circle.

The first week of May brought the sophomore dance along with rumors of peace in Europe. A few days later those rumors were confirmed and immediately special services of thanksgiving were held in the college chapel. Throughout the entire year, we had offered particular prayers for peace and students kept constant adorations before the Blessed Sacrament for the intentions of Our Holy Father. There were May Day devotions throughout our Blessed Mother's month and on Mother's Day we were hostesses to all the sodalities of East Westchester on World Wide Sodality Day.

The program for commencement week kept us well occupied the first week of June. We sang and played games on field day, enjoyed the strawberry festival, and eagerly watched the seniors bestow pine walk on the juniors. On class day we presented to the graduates our ivy chain and Maria Stack, our President, wished them well in the name of all of us. The following day we saw the seniors receive their diplomas from His Eminence, Cardinal Spellman. Not long after the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" had faded, we said good-bye to Good Counsel for the summer.

Junior Year . . .

Before the prom

Our pine tree almost reached its fullness reflecting our own progress toward our goal.

September 1945 found us back at Good Counsel as mature juniors. The first thing we did was to compare notes on how we had celebrated V-J Day. Mail began to bring shouts of "He's coming home," instead of "He's moving to another island. I can't pronounce it."

Faced with an enormous freshman class, some of us found ourselves with as many as three "sisters". We were well aware of the large numbers when we assembled for the Mass of the Holy Spirit celebrated by the Right Reverend Monsignor Joseph A. Breslin, D.D., Honorary President, when the college chapel was filled to overflowing.

The pride of the biologists

We at once undertook our great project of the year, the publication of the Prestonian. Jane Markey and Dorothy Mullins were elected editor-in-chief and assistant editor respectively. The first issue included pictures of Constance Conroy and Theresa Kelley who had entered the novitiate of the Religious of the Divine Compassion and who are now Sister Mary Gaudentia and Sister Mary Edward.

A meeting of the N.F.C.C.S. was held at Good Counsel early in the term. Mission Week was observed at a special assembly during which the Reverend Vincent Jeffers of the Propagation of the Faith addressed the students on the immediate needs of the missions and also mentioned and lauded the assistance that we had given them. Mr. Edward J. King, a representative of the Navy Department gave us firsthand information on the condition of the missions in the Pacific area where he had been serving for a long period of time.

"The character which I want you to notice in the pine is its exquisite fineness. Other trees rise against the sky in dots and knots, but this in fringes."

The social season opened with a Sodality tea dance on October twentieth. Later in the month we joined the throngs lining each side of the Hudson River to pay tribute to the victorious fleet at the river pageant presented by the City of New York as an expression of thanks to the Navy.

While the sophomores attended the Military Ball, we tended shop at the annual bazaar in November. Judging from the inventory of the table afterwards we realized that our efforts were crowned with success. Later Dorothy Stanton put us among the immortals when her poem, "Day's End," was selected for inclusion in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

December was strictly a junior month. It opened with our prom and closed with the college ring ceremony. The prom was held in Preston Hall which was artistically decorated with pine branches, Poinsettias, and a sprig of mistletoe hanging from the center of the dining room. On December nineteenth our beloved President, Reverend Mother Mary Aloysia, presented us with our rings at the traditional ceremony and reminded us of the significance of the college shield which is inscribed on our ring. Few of us wore gloves to the Christmas dinner the next evening so that we might keep gazing at our beautiful garnets.

Fun and frolic at Christmas time

"Nature is the gift of God."

A heavy snowstorm sent those who live at a distance home before the carol night pageant, but there were still sufficient carolers to fill the ranks. The moon shone full on the fresh snow, revealing the brilliant costumes of the kings and pages. After Benediction in the chapel we departed for home to spend the Christmas holidays.

January arrived and the imminent threat of examinations was before us, but like all other tests, they, too, passed away. Mrs. Veronica Dengel in her series of lectures aimed to bring about a campaign for self-improvement. The Mission Bridge was held again at the Hotel New Yorker. Clare Bender was chairman of the affair, so we felt it a special feat of our class when the bridge was so successful. Rehearsals for Career Angel and the Glee Club Concert were numerous in early spring. The play was presented on March first. The concert was given at the end of the month at the Hotel Plaza in New York.

On the feast of St. Thomas Aquinas, the Philosophy Symposium was held. The topic of discussion was "The Family". We as participating members of the Aquinas Philosophy Club beamed forth from the front rows at our colleagues who had prepared and delivered important themes on "The Family". That month brought the first fair St. Patrick's Day during our college years and it was with great pride that we paraded up Fifth Avenue in New York to take part in the celebration.

A banquet tribute to the seniors

With April approaching, the Lenten play became the next calendar event. It was The Second Chance and the Juniors comprised a large part of the cast. Also in keeping with the season were the Lenten sermons delivered each Friday by the Reverend Morgan J. O'Brien.

The Easter vacation arrived, the magnolias bloomed and the dogwood and rhododendrons around Our Lady's Shrine made an exquisite scene. We returned from the holidays and counted the days that remained until graduation. A meeting of the Science Round Table was held at Good Counsel. On that occasion a valuable lecture was given by the Reverend Joseph Lynch, S.J., of Fordham University. The following week Dr. Ross Hoffman, also of Fordham, visited our college and addressed us on the topic of the U. N. O.

Suddenly the excitement of the week of final examinations loomed up before us. Attendant upon it, however, was the enjoyment of final club parties. Meanwhile we still practiced "Emitte Spiritum Tuum" and "The Pilgrim's Chorus" for the graduation exercises. In spite of threats the weather was clear for pine walk ceremony and we became seniors as we received our lighted candles from those in the departing class. This ceremony and the junior-senior banquet were happy occasions for us but they were also tinged with sorrow, for as we bade farewell to another senior class, we realized that just a year from then we would say adieu to our college days. Happily, though, we looked to our senior year, and amid the tolling of our chapel bells, we uttered a sincere prayer that God would make us worthy of performing our duty as seniors—of upholding the high ideals of Good Counsel College.

Our History

"A FAINT, LOW MURMUR, RISING AND FALLING ON THE WIND. NOW IT COMES ROLLING IN UPON ME WAVE AFTER WAVE OF SWEET, SOLEMN MUSIC. THERE WAS A GRAND ORGAN SWELL; AND NOW IT DIES AWAY AS INTO THE INFINITE DISTANCE; BUT I STILL HEAR IT—WHETHER WITH EAR OR SPIRIT I KNOW NOT—THE VERY GHOST OF SOUND . . . IT IS THE VOICE OF THE PINES YONDER—A SORT OF MORNING SONG OF PRAISE TO THE GIVER OF LIFE AND MAKER OF BEAUTY."

Senior Year . . .

Numerous changes had taken place at Good Counsel before we returned last fall. Two cottages, St. Ann's Cottage and Dannat Hall were opened as residences for the seniors. The former St. Stanislaus Building afforded new quarters for the commercial and art departments and additional classrooms. The name, "Marietta Hall", in honor of the late Miss Marietta Reilly, educator and benefactress of the college, was given to it.

Our tassels were turned at the ceremony on September twenty-eighth. A gentle reminder of things to come was made at an early class meeting when we elected our chairman for the annual bazaar. To edit the Vestigia we chose Dorothy Stanton, Editor-in-Chief. The annual retreat opened on October twenty-ninth with the Reverend Paul J. Cuddy, of Auburn, N. Y., Retreat Master. In his first address Father Cuddy pointed out that the purpose of the retreat was twofold — "to know ourselves and to know God". After three days of profitable meditation, prayer, and recollection, it closed with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

On November eleventh we experienced one of the first of our "last times" — investiture. Officially, then, we began our year with Maria Stack, President of the Student Council; Jane Markey, Class President; and Joan Ogilvie, day student Representative.

Before we could realize the flight of time, quarterly examinations came our way and after them we departed to spend the Thanksgiving vacation with our families. Upon our return the spirit of Christmas was in the air and the memory of our last carol night still remains vivid. The joy and significance of the occasion together with the beauty of the campus places carol night among our most cherished traditions.

During the week after our return from the Christmas recess, some of us attended the prom in Preston Hall. Later in the month St. Peter's College sent representatives to participate in the symposium in conjunction with the Preston Debating Society of Good Counsel. The topic of discussion was the lay apostolate. On St. Valentine's Day a tea dance was held in the auditorium. A few days later we enjoyed a special lecture by Cathleen McLaughlin, war correspondent from Berlin. The Reverend M. Dempsey, noted Irish priest and author, addressed us at assembly on the subject of charity. During Lent a series of Lenten talks was given by the Reverend Martin J. Carroll of Brooklyn, N. Y., and the Reverend Aloysius F. Coogan, New York Editor of the Catholic Missions.

A timely topic, "The Philosophy of the State", was discussed by senior members of the Aquinas Philosophy Club on March tenth in honor of St. Thomas Aquinas, the great patron of studies. On March fourteenth the Glee Club appeared at the New York State Chapter of the National Catholic Music Educators' Association held in New York. Choral singing was demonstrated. On St. Patrick's Day we again enthusiastically marched up Fifth Avenue to take part in the observance of that happy day. The Sodality Lenten play, Barter, was presented during Passion Week.

Who will be the first out of Dannat?

Classes over

In April the Alumnae Association sponsored a concert by the college Glee Club in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Plaza in New York. A great variety of classical and modern numbers, including solos as well as choral groups was rendered.

The month of May brought many activities. We attended May devotions in the college chapel daily and manifested again our special devotion to Our Blessed Mother during that month. Our prom was held in Preston Hall later in the month and this was shortly afterwards followed by the annual production of the dramatics society. The annual birthday party was also given and was an occasion enjoyed and appreciated by all.

St. Ann's snowbound

"Nature is a volume of which God is the author."

Then with majors and minors completed, we turned our attentions to commencement week. Every day was a memorable one — our Baccalaureate Address; our reception into the Alumnae Association; the junior-senior banquet; the pine walk ceremony; class day exercises during which we relinquished the shield of Alma Mater and entrusted it to those who follow in our footsteps; the reception of our hoods which had been presented to us by our beloved President, Reverend Mother Mary Aloysia, at a solemn ceremony. Finally graduation arrived — our final college activity and the end of four happy years. Commencement week with all its significant ceremonies did not fail to impress each one of us profoundly. Good Counsel's campus had exhibited all its beauty and splendor, not perhaps to tannt us who were so soon to leave, but rather to place the final seal upon our affections.

In Gratitude

All we can say is "thank you". Inadequate though these words may appear, they are, nevertheless, heavily underscored with all the affection that we can utter.

To our beloved President and Foundress, Reverend Mother Mary Aloysia, we extend our deepest gratitude for her charity, motherly kindness, and willing assistance which inspired us to imitate the virtues which should characterize the ideal Catholic woman.

To our esteemed Dean, Sister Mary Cyril, whose devoted zeal we have observed in all our activities, we offer special tribute in the hope that in this small way we may express our sincere appreciation and loyalty.

To the members of the faculty, religious and lay alike, it is indeed difficult to find fitting words to indicate our true sentiments. For four years you have steadily and perseveringly instructed us and guided us toward our goal and we are most appreciative of the benefits we have received from you. Realizing that your gifts to us will exert a lasting influence upon our lives may we before we leave just repeat "thank you".

*To Reverend Mother
Mary Aloysia, R.D.C.*

Our Beloved President

" 'Tis education forms the common mind,
Just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined."
Your prayers and deeds have swayed our futures, all;
Just as the stately pine so straight and tall
Was nourished and allowed in peace to grow,
And on our chapel walk, was sheltered, so
Dear Mother, by your virtues strong and great
Were we, your children, led to imitate
Your generosity and depth of heart
That going forth, true souled, we'll do our part.
'Tis thus to you we owe the precious debt
Of gratitude for days we'll n'er forget:
To you, as to Our Lady dressed in blue,
We'll whisper, "Mother, what am I to do?"

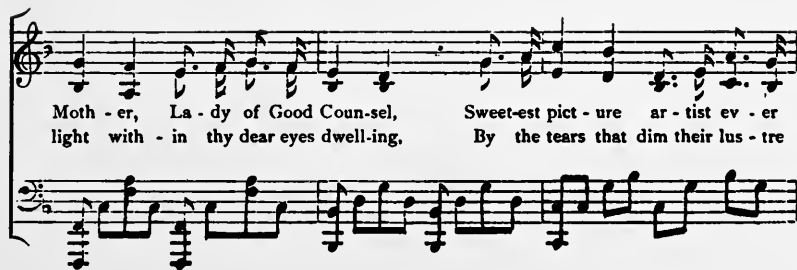

DOROTHY STANTON

To Mother Mary Compassio, R.D.C.

Much to remember, you have given us in your music,
Much to be thankful for, you have given us here.
We leave Good Counsel, having learned to know, to love, and to do,
To know the beautiful, the true, and the good;
To love these things in our hearts, our thoughts, and our words,
To do the right in all our actions and at all times.
We shall not forget, nor be ungrateful.

Our Ring

One of the happiest occasions of our college days was that on which our beloved President, Reverend Mother Mary Aloysia, placed the college ring on our finger and related to us the significance of the figures which are emblazoned on either side of the garnet.

The college ring is the outward symbol of all a student has learned to cherish during her years here. The cross, to her the representation of the Catholic faith, is depicted as a constant reminder of the hope set before her by her religion. Beneath the shield is a lamp, signifying the light of mental illumination which is to be kept burning by continually supplementing the knowledge gleaned from text books and lectures. The EAGLE reminds her that she should soar to lofty heights in her aspirations.

Richly symbolic of the ideals of the founders of our college, the ring of Alma Mater will always mark her . . . . GRADUATES.

Farewell

The whispering pines sigh gently,
"Farewell, farewell, farewell
To you, Oh Class of '47."
The breezy chorus swells
As ivy, oak, and maple,
And sweet magnolias, too,
Join the voices murmur'ring
"Farewell, good luck to you.
As step by step you grew
We watched you from above;
We rejoiced with you and sighed with you,
And showered you with love.
But now, dear girls, you leave us
No more our paths to trod;
But the echoes of your footsteps
Will resound forever more
As you journey onward
Leading souls to God."
Now 'neath our boughs we hear you sing,
"Oh stately pines, farewell."

Good Morning, Miss Johnson

I'M A LITTLE LATE TODAY, but I'm not going to be too hard on myself. I met Fanny Desimone in the lobby downstairs. She was taking her sixth graders on our N. B. C. tour. I was glad I had those extra tickets for the "Train Your Brain" show. The children were thrilled at the prospect of seeing a radio broadcast and when I told Fanny that Dr. Courtney, the quizmaster of "Train Your Brain" is our own Catherine, she was more excited than were her charges. Catherine is the idol of every educator in the country. Her success has been really phenomenal, — a steady rise since the publication of her doctor's thesis. (She was twenty-three when it was published).

I did not have all the news. Fanny told me that her sister, Terry, left for Alaska last week. She has agreed to be resident physician at Wiley Post, that new community in Alaska organized by and named for Patricia Wiley. Her Community Service Plan, I hear, has been tremendously successful. Josephine Curry is going to experiment with it in the French West Indies as soon as Sheila Duggan can fly her to an outpost. Sheila has promised to schedule the flight before her proposed trip to the moon in the Duggan Dart. Dorothy Stanton's discussion of it in last month's Popular Science made America conscious of it and the lunar project. Patricia Burke, who has become the most popular lecturer on science on campuses throughout the country, recently called the Duggan Dart the greatest thing since aluminum knitting needles.

Fanny and I could have talked for hours, but sixth graders will not wait for hours and I do have my obligations to N. B. C.'s advertising department. We are going to pick up our conversation at the next alumnae meeting. It will be definitely scheduled when Maria Stack, President of the association, finishes her work at the National Medical Association Convention and returns East. Maria is one of the women in medicine today. Her time is at a premium. And right now mine is too.

I had better hurry and check these memos my secretary left for me. Wonderful girl, my secretary. She is a Reilly graduate and one who lives up to that famous slogan, "Be Really Glad with a Reilly Grad!" Joan Clark was telling me that if she could satisfy the calls for Reilly trained girls, a fortune would be made. She has a mighty fine start with Clark Employment Agencies in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, and Los Angeles.

I shall have to do my best without my girl Friday today. She has gone over to the Business Machines Exposition in the main ballroom of the Paar Building, right next to Grand Central. Virginia owns New York's newest skyscraper outright. Her chance-buying habit which she acquired in college paid off three years ago when she won the Irish sweepstakes. Mary Gehan, or Mrs. Wall Street, as she is called by the nation's journalists, handled Virginia's winnings for her. Mary Zweifel is the official hostess at the Paar

Building from nine to two-nineteen. I asked my secretary to say hello to Mary for me, but I am almost sure she will forget my message when she sees the exhibit.

They are featuring the latest Dugganite. This is Laura's fifth brainchild. She has made a startling contribution to the business field every year since 1947 when she turned the trick with a "writertype," the typewriter that automatically spells everything backwards. It revolutionized radio advertising and, of course, procured terrific sales promotion when it was announced that a complimentary "writertype" went with every Studebaker. This time Laura has outdone herself for speedy production. It has America's biggest magnates wondering about the magic scissors that cut the red tape for the Dugganites.

It is not such a mystery when you realize that Janet Duffy has become really influential in Washington circles. She is there as voluntary representative of the North Tarrytown Chamber of Commerce. Janet dropped everything including her executive position with United Airlines eight months ago. Since then she has been lobbying against the proposal to merge North Tarrytown and Tarrytown. She has touched many American hearts with her appeals for the safeguarding of "North Tarrytown's sacred individuality". Clare Bender has given her whole-hearted support to Janet's work.

Although Clare has become a national figure as president of the American Federation of Women's Clubs, she continued to be interested in Westchester. She proved that last fall during the Yonkers mayoralty race. Jean Murphy's election was no accident. Clare's management of the campaign was superlative. Since her election, Jean has introduced legislation to make the installation of the Farrell cushion compulsory in all vehicles of the Yonkers-White Plains Bus Lines.

Constance Farrell's product is a combination of helium, steam, and nylon according to the Madison formula. Eileen introduced this formula in her first book, Life Can Be Beautiful or You, Too, Can Pass Geometry. Eileen will be the guest member of our literary round table broadcast at three o'clock when her latest book, How to Win Friends and Square Roots, will be discussed. If I want to make the broadcast, I had better take care of these memos.

Let's see now. First things first. My subscription to the Bronx Home News has to be renewed. Lucille Suglia is doing such fine work writing for its woman's page, I hate to miss a single issue. I especially like her interviews of leading daughters of the Bronx. Patricia O'Connor, N.B.C.'s "Singing Lady", is to be next Tuesday's subject. Her daily program has achieved even greater popularity with children from coast to coast since the release of her new album by the La Barbera Record Company. Sara, so celebrated some years ago as with the "atomic touch" is now concentrating on directing her new company. She is making one of her rare personal appearances next month at Carnegie Hall for the benefit of the Schneider Foundation, which seems destined to become the center of vitamin research in the United States. Betty has offered Marilee Donovan the use of one of the laboratories at the Foundation to continue her experiments with Donovan Drops, the all-purpose vitamin endorsed by Jack Armstrong. It is rumored that Joan Stiquel will also be appointed to the staff of the Foundation. Her angle is surgery. I would not be surprised if she concentrates her efforts on proving the efficiency of Galotta surgical thread, about which Margaret is busy now preparing explanatory information.

Our State Department has assigned Helen Gallagher, one of the most capable members of its Pan American Commission, to make ready the most valuable of this material for our South American neighbors. As the Secretary of State remarked at a press conference last week, "Galotta Surgical Thread will do much to keep the people of the Americas together."

Memo No. 2: "Cues and Views". What could that mean? Oh, yes, I remember. It stands for the new literary review that is to be published once a year. Dorothy Mullins is editing it. Advance notices suggest that it will be quite comprehensive. Marjorie McAvoy's book, Expose on Handwriting As I Read It, will be reviewed. I am even more excited about Marjorie's latest copy just gone to press. It is volume one of her Memoirs or The Roaring Forties.

I see that Dorothy is going out on a limb in discussing the Rahill sketches "Underwater Scenes." Rosemary startled classicists in the art world last year by actually sketching under water. She used the revolutionary new Harrigan paper — Eversmooth. Joan has made a fortune with her new paper.

Metaphysics Can Be Fun or There's Nothing to Being, Florence Traynor's latest book, will be treated in "Cues and Views" as the year's outstanding philosophical work.

Memo No. 3: Remind Margaret Camp about the account. The Archibald Wool contract is quite a feather in my cap. It was not easy to land. Margaret and her husband have been concentrating on newspaper advertising for their "argyles for kiddies" and it has been very successful. Katherine Flynn's triplets, who model the socks, have captured the hearts of Americans. Mary Boisi has done artistic work handling the photography. The Boisi touch, three Irish smiles, and the socks make quite a combination, but Margaret has finally agreed to give radio advertising a trial.

I have assigned the account to the "Breakfast with Jean and Jimmy" show. If anyone can sell a product to the American woman, Jean Hartman can. It was she who earned the slogan, P.D.M.S. Yes, a Perazzo dress means success and thereby established Doris Perazzo as the oracle of the fashion world. Even Juliette Chapdelaine, young Du Pont executive, and one of America's ten best dressed women, affirms the Perazzo creations.

Memo No. 4: Bon Voyage gifts for Olga Lamattina. I have almost decided to stop giving them, for Olga shuttles back and forth between the United States and France as though she were commuting from New York to New Jersey. She is leaving again on Thursday.

Travel reminds me that I had better make a note of Cathleen Cullen's arrival next Sunday. She is flying from Ireland where she has been gathering material for her book, The History of Ireland. She is to be godmother for Marjorie Delaney's daughter. Very shortly Helen Larkin is going to go on vacation for awhile. I fear the public will miss her brilliant interpretations and comments on current events, but I am relieved to see that she is finally going to take a rest. Helen's future plans include collaborating with Juliana Burkard on the writing of a book that is to be the official text on international law for use in the World Court.

Memo No. 5: Gallagher promotion. We are going to try something new this week in connection with Gallagher cosmetics. Doris has wisely bought exclusive rights to June Schinto's amazing product, a new type of stocking which Barbara Aylesworth has promised to boost in her column in La Prensa. We are fortunate that the new stocking has been given the Ciciarella seal of approval. That is absolutely the highest medical endorsement possible today. Trying to sell our new product without it would be like trying to sell a child's formula that had not been tested in Mother Johnston's Chemical Kitchen. It was Marguerite's large family that started her experimenting along nutritional lines. Then Anne Fay, one of the leading child specialists in the country, advised her to make some serious studies. Of course, Anne's work encompasses all aspects of child welfare. Her introduction of typing to the grammar school curriculum caused a national sensation. Anne feels that one is never too young to start building up that speed.

Memo No. 6: Luncheon — Long Island. Oh, I almost forgot it. We are going over to Rosemarie Steropoli's home on Long Island. She and her sportswriter husband were recently chosen the couple of the month by a leading women's magazine. I am sure Rosemarie would have become one of the interior decorators of the country if she had not decided on marriage. The luncheon is in honor of Jane Markey who has been named "Woman of the Year". Her newspaper work has had outstanding influence on the public.

One o'clock is the time for the luncheon. I must hustle. One more minute.

Memo — Check the memos!

THE SHRINE OF OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL

Our Lady of Good Counsel

O Virgin Mother, Lady of Good Counsel

Sweetest picture artist ever drew,

In all my doubts I fly to thee for guidance —

Mother, tell me, what am I to do?

By thy face to Jesus' face inclining,

Sheltered safely in thy mantle blue;

By His little arms around thee twining,

Mother, tell me, what am I to do?

By the light within thy dear eyes dwelling,

By the tears that dim their lustre too,

By the story that these tears are telling,

Mother, tell me, what am I to do?

Life, alas! is often dark and dreary,

Cheating shadows hide the truth from view;

When my soul is most perplexed and weary,

Mother, tell me, what am I to do?

These four long years we've nestled 'neath thy mantle,

By thy side we've wandered day by day,

Now time has beckoned with his ruthless finger,

And alas our steps are turned away.

Those dear eyes will follow where we wander,

Those loved arms will strengthen us anew,

And those fond ears will listen when we whisper

"Mother, tell me, what am I to do?"
